Dear Mark:

As I mentioned at the most recent heat treating trade show, the SmartSkim oil separators that we have purchased over the years continue to serve as a critical component to our overall plant maintenance program. Your product's ability to remove unwanted contaminants with little to no maintenance provides an invaluable service to both us and our customers. At Braddock Metallurgical we pride ourselves in providing state of the art production heat treating capabilities.

Without reservation, I would highly recommend your company's products to any interested parties.

Regards,

GEORGE GIEGER
